Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3, 4, 6, 8, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shishiguchi et al (U.S. Patent No. 4,992,301).

With respect to claims 1, 3, 4, 6, and 15, Shishiguchi et al teaches an apparatus for storing a plurality of supports 5 wherein the apparatus includes a mechanism 130,170 for diffusively introducing pressurized gas into the apparatus, an outlet element having a plurality of openings 131,171 in fluid communication with the mechanism, and a holding chamber 7 disposed such that gas flow through and out of the holding chamber is substantially unidirectional and substantially parallel to the supports; the holding chamber 7 having an opening 14 for removing the supports 5 and a plurality of elements for holding the supports (col.1, lines 49-51). A gas inlet (unlabeled, but depicted by an arrow) at the bottom of mechanism 130,170 is perpendicular to the axis of openings 131,171, while the interior of mechanism 130,170 functions as a manifold. As to the intended use recitation in the preamble, “for storing a plurality of supports having a plurality of chemical compounds/biopolymers bound thereto at individual sites thereon," a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

FIG. 17C

With respect to claim 8, the apparatus of Shishiguchi et al is certainly capable of introducing gas at a pressure of 60-80 psi.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 7, 62, 63, and 70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shishiguchi et al in view of Yamaga (U.S. Patent No. 5,484,484).

Shishiguchi et al teaches the claimed apparatus as set forth above but is silent with respect to the use of a valve in the gas inlet. Yamaga et al, however, teaches a similar apparatus for processing wafers wherein the gas inlet line 4 includes a valve V1. See Figure 2. As valves are known and used in the art for control of gas flow, it would have been obvious to provide a valve in the gas inlet of Shishiguchi et al.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2, 5, 6, 9-14, 16, 64-69, and 71 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
6. Claims 58-61 and 72-81 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
